how we do it

Your Idea

From Mind To Market

Everything starts with your idea. Together we create your market-ready cosmetic products. As a full-service partner, we support you with conceptional marketing ideas, cosmetic product development up to the manufacturing of the finished product.

Together we start with the selection of raw materials, the design of the formulation and the active ingredients concepts. We continue with testing your cosmetic prototypes for stability, claims and safety. Then we manage the scale-up from lab to production. Finally, we support you to realize the manufacturing, filling, packaging, and labeling. In addition, we cover registration, regulatory issues, and sustainability topics for you. Furthermore, we support you to scale your business to the next level. This way your idea turns into a successful product in the beauty industry.
